ARRIVAL IN SERBIA

You will arrive at Belgrade Airport “Nikola Tesla” from which you will need to secure transfer from the airport to the city. Belgrade Nikola Tesla Airport is located 18 kilometers away from the city center. There is no Uber in Belgrade because for taxi drivers a special taxi license is required.

There are two options.

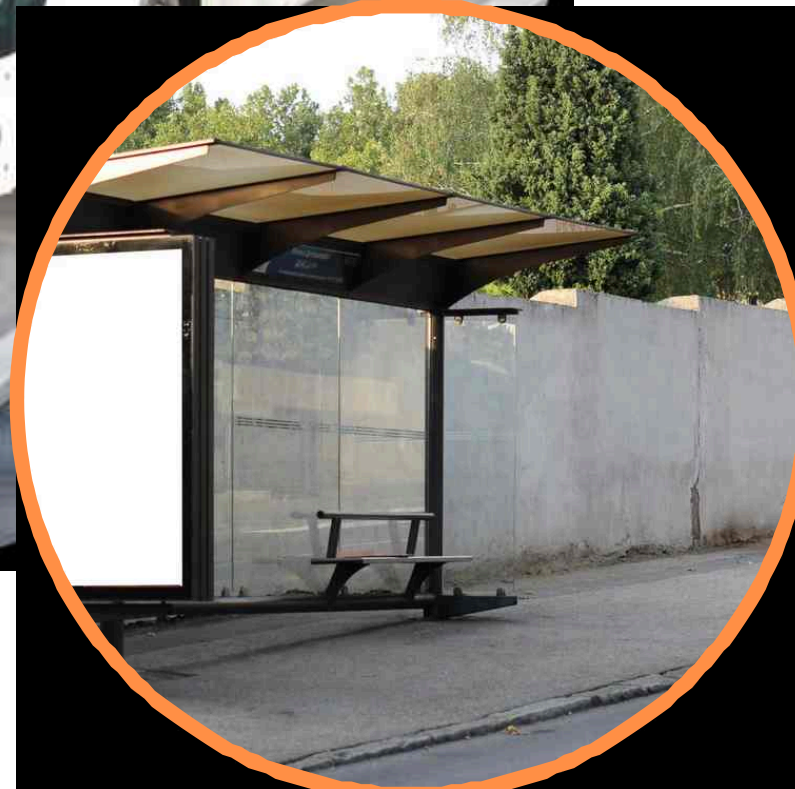

By public transport(bus)

The cheapest option is the bus. There are a few bus travel options when travelling between the airport and city centre.

Tickets for the bus cost around 3€ and takes around 60 minutes to reach the city centre.

Bus A1- Runs every 20 minutes. The destination is at Slavija Square (Trg Slavija).The journey typically takes around 30 to 40 minutes.

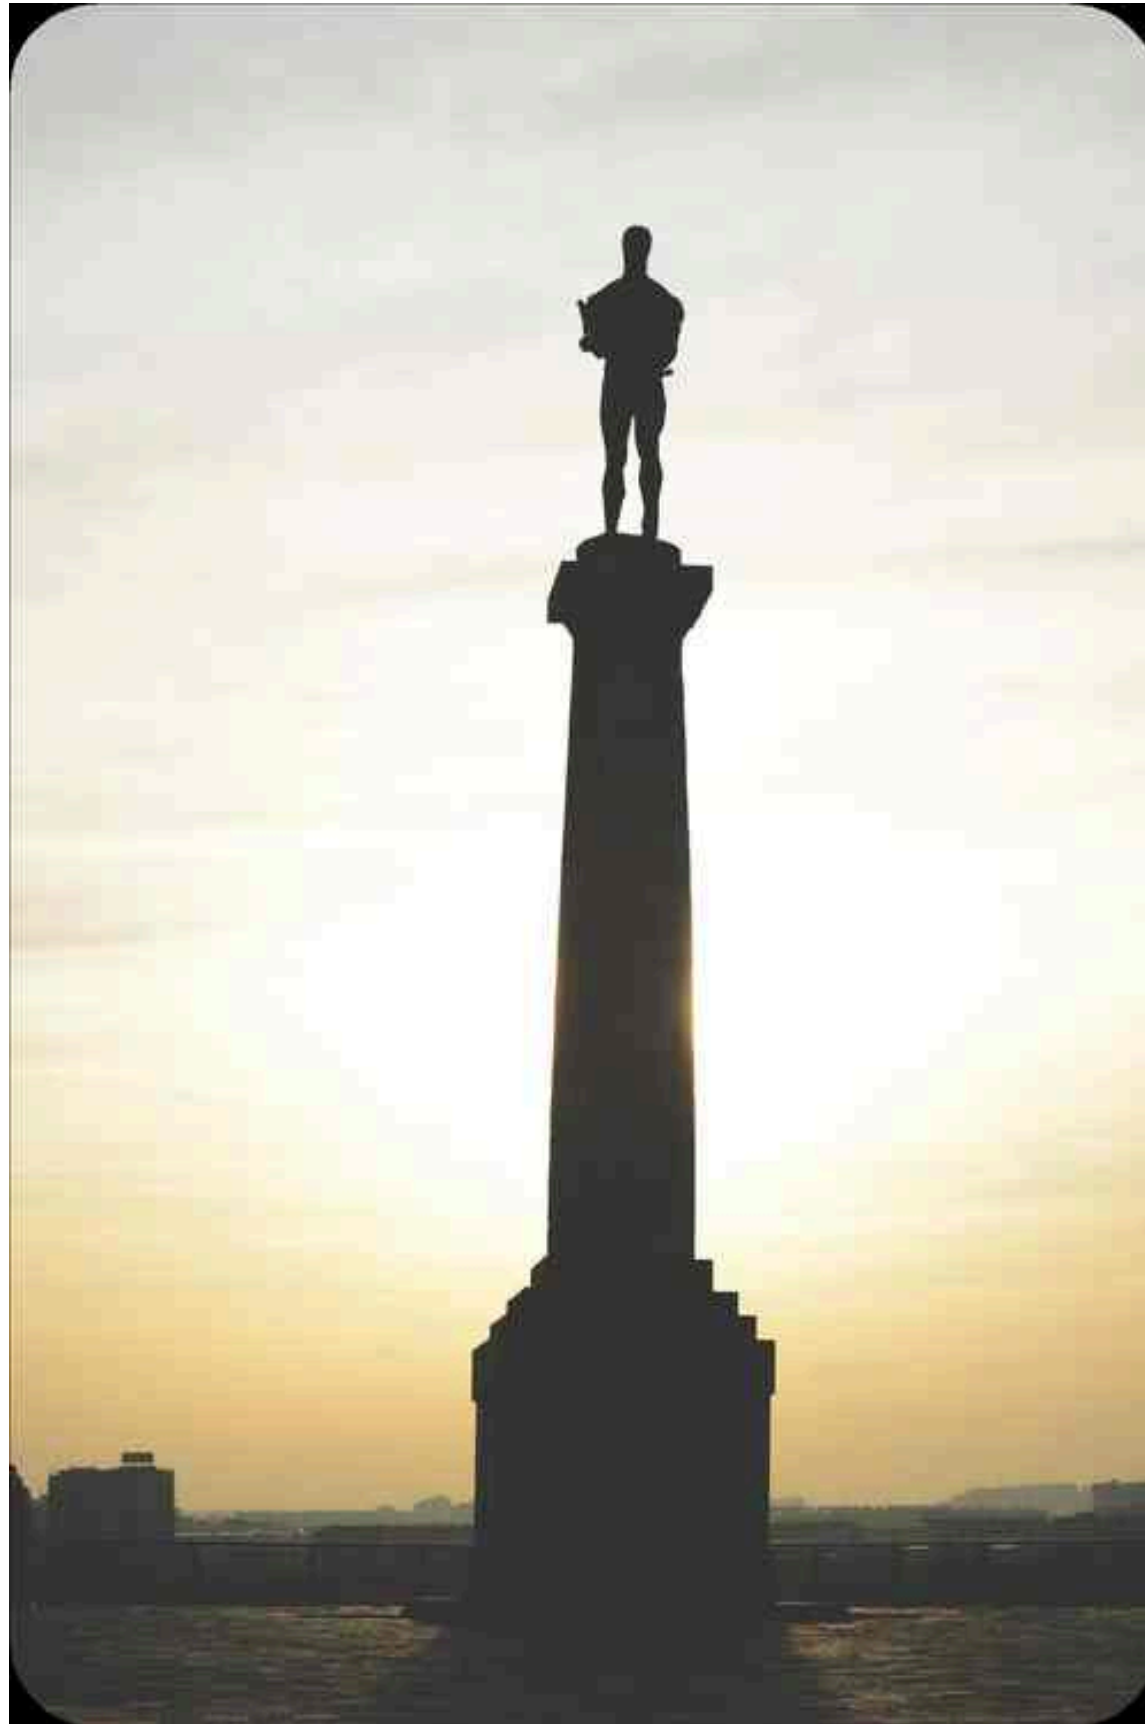

Bus Line 72 - Route: Airport - Zeleni venac Square, approximate travel time - 30 – 40 minutes

Taxi transport

Taxis are available 24 hours a day from the airport taxis top. You will find it located outside of the Terminal1 and Terminal2 Arrival Halls. Alternatively, you can pre-book your Belgrade Airport taxi and secure on-time pickups and transfers. The cost to the city centre should be a fixed fare of around €26 (RSD3,000). You will need to collect a ticket stating your destination and the price of your journey from the kiosk inside the airport, and then present this to your driver. Getting a taxi from Belgrade Airport is simple. You need to collect a taxi ticket from the kiosk inside Terminal 1 or Terminal 2, and then walk to one of the Belgrade Airport taxi ranks located outside of the main exit doors.

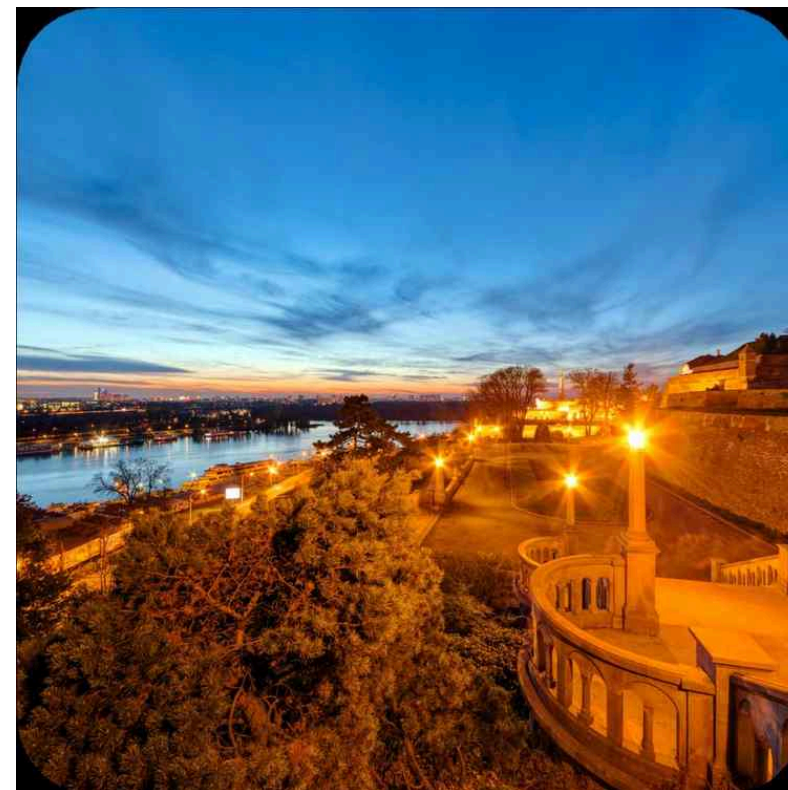

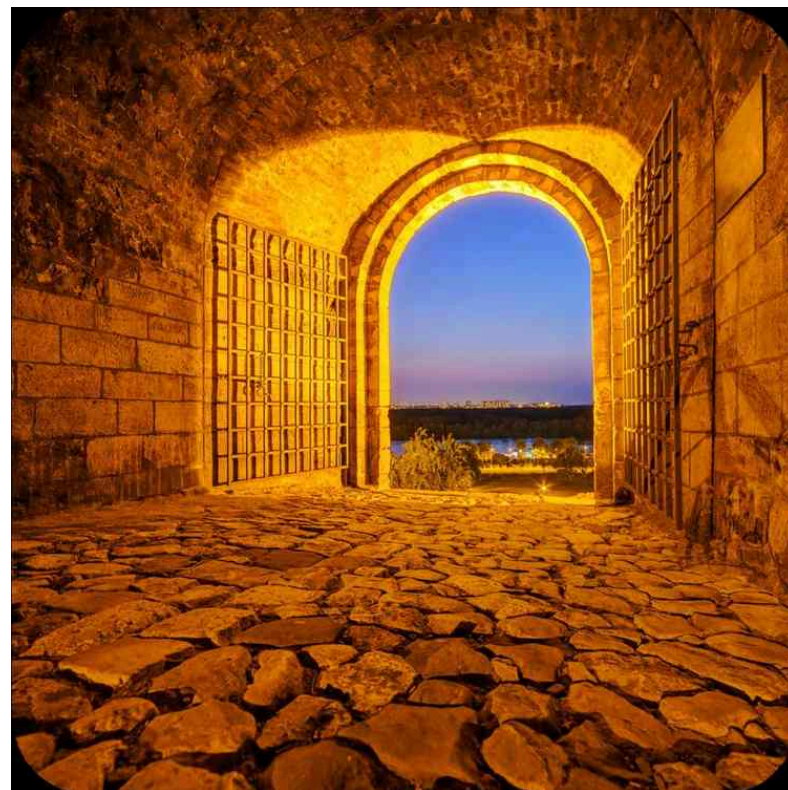

About the City

Belgrade is situated at the place where the Sava joins the Danube. Belgrade is one of the oldest cities in Europe. Belgrade, the capital of Serbia, has over 1,6 million residents. It spreads over 3.6% of the territory of Serbia, and 15.8% of Serbian population lives in this city. Also, 31.2% of all employed workers in Serbia work in Belgrade. It is the capital of Serbian culture, education and science. It has the greatest concentration of institutions of national importance in the field of science and art.

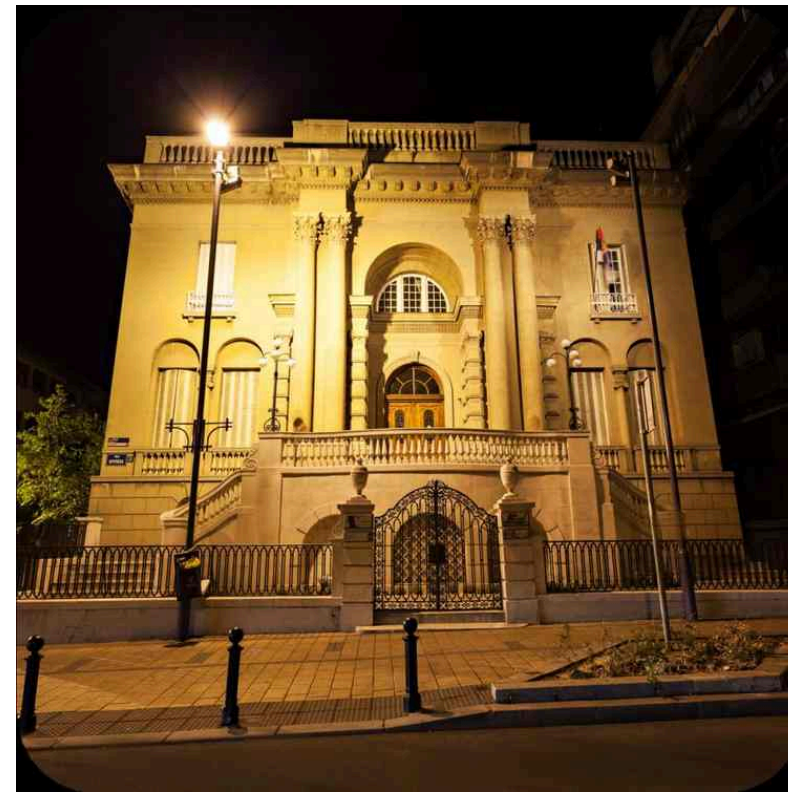

KalemegdanPark

Kalemegdan Park is a historic fortress and park. The name "Kalemegdan" is of Turkish origin and means "castle square" in Turkish. The park is situated at the confluence of the River Sava and Danube and offers panoramic views of the rivers and the city. Kalemegdan Park is not only a popular green space for locals and tourists to relax and enjoy outdoor activities but also home to several important cultural and historical monuments. Within the park, you can find the Belgrade Fortress, which dates back to the 3rd century BC and has been an important military stronghold throughout history.

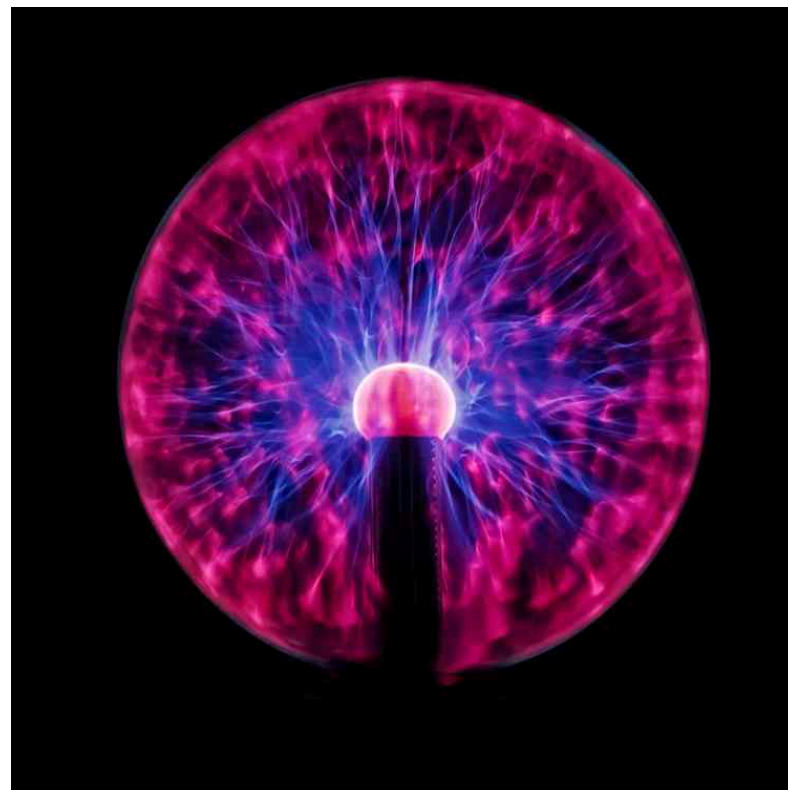

Visitors to Kalemegdan Park can explore the fortress walls, towers, and gates, as well as visit museums, galleries, and monuments located within the park. The park also features beautifully landscaped gardens, walking paths, cafes, and recreational areas. Overall, Kalemegdan Park is a must-visit destination in Belgrade for anyone interested in history, culture, and enjoying the outdoors in a picturesque setting.

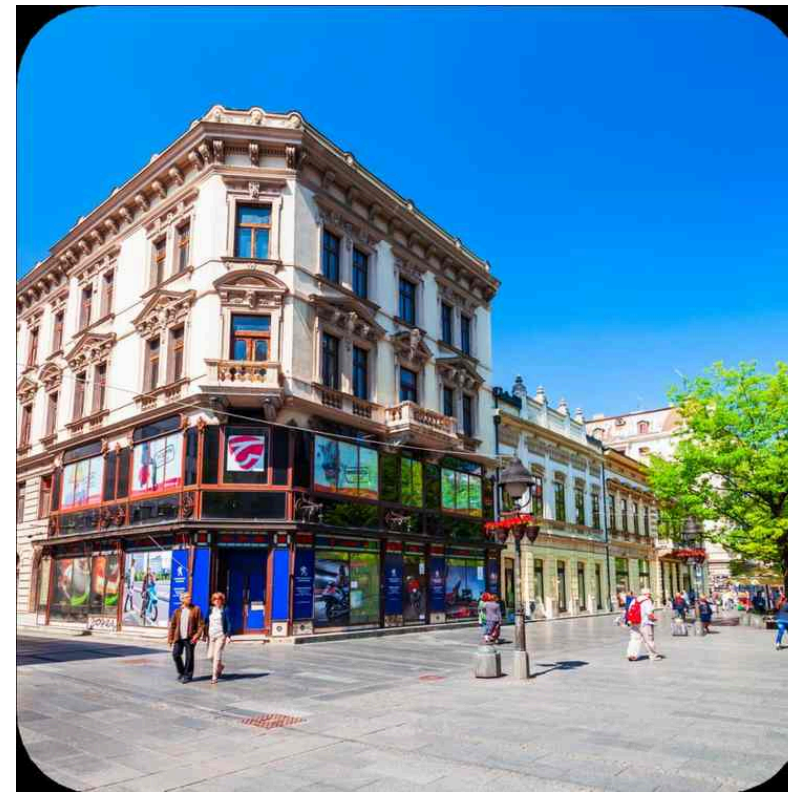

Nikola Tesla Museum

KRUNSKA51, BELGRADE

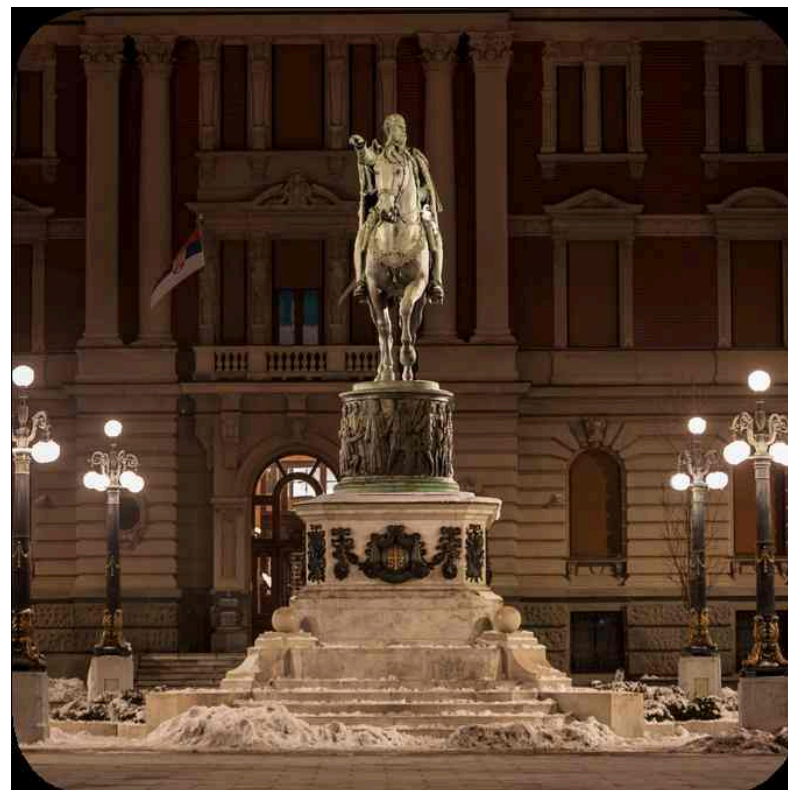

The Nikola Tesla Museum is a museum dedicated to the life and work of the famous inventor, electrical engineer, and physicist, Nikola Tesla. It is situated in a residential villa that was built in 1927, where Tesla himself lived for a brief period. The Museum houses a collection of over 160,000 original documents, 2,000 books and journals, 1,200 historical technical exhibits, 1,500 photographs, and 1,000 plans and drawings related to Tesla's work. The museum provides insight into Tesla's inventions, experiments, and contributions to the fields of electricity and magnetism. Visitors to the museum can see Tesla's personal belongings, models of his inventions, scientific instruments, and interactive displays that demonstrate his groundbreaking work in the field of electrical engineering. The museum also offers guided tours and educational programs that delve into Tesla's scientific achievements and his vision for the future.

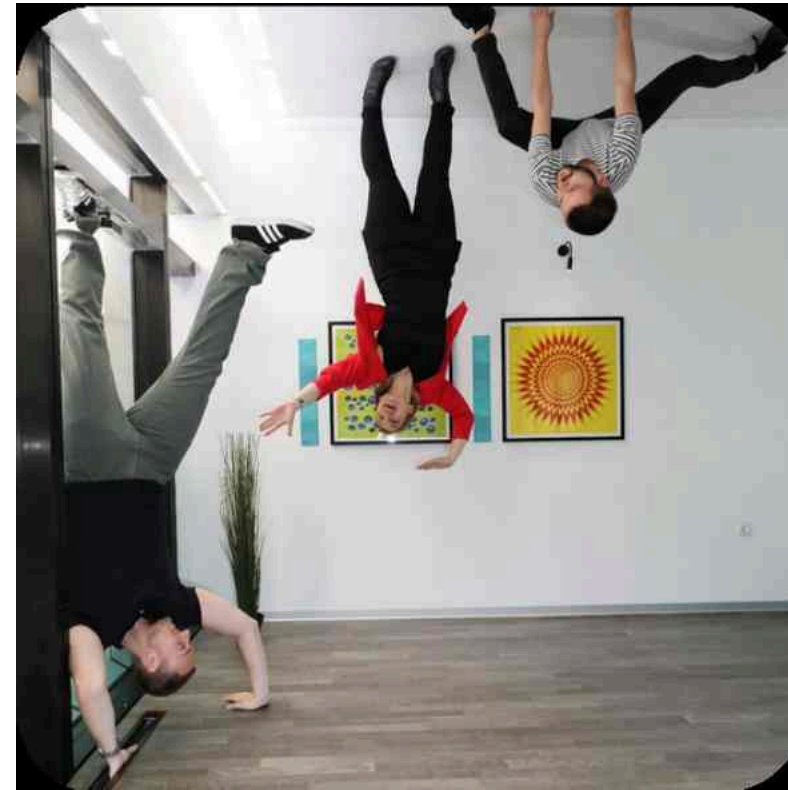

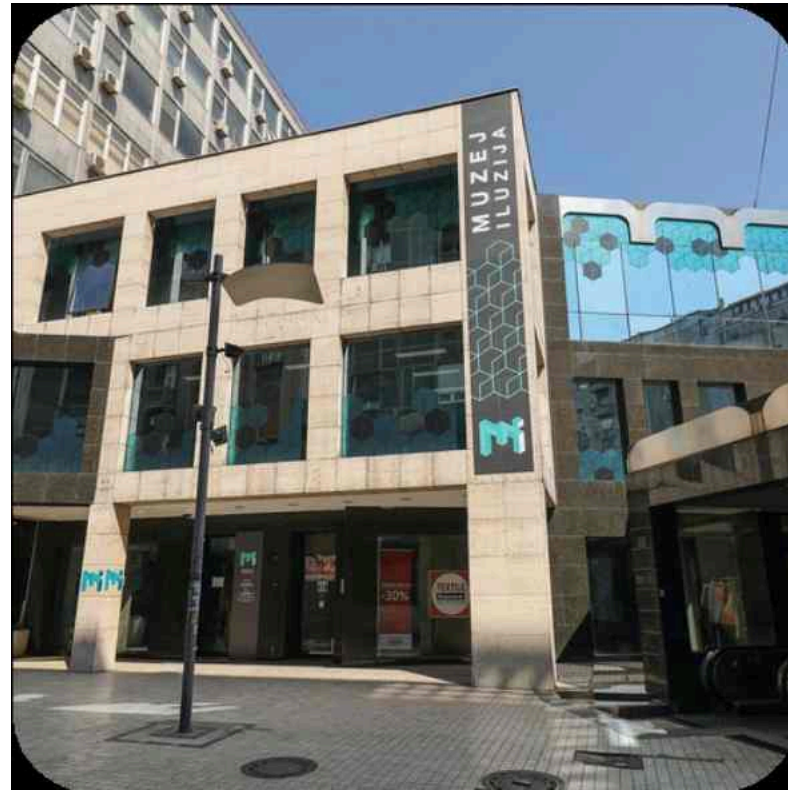

Knez Mihailova Street

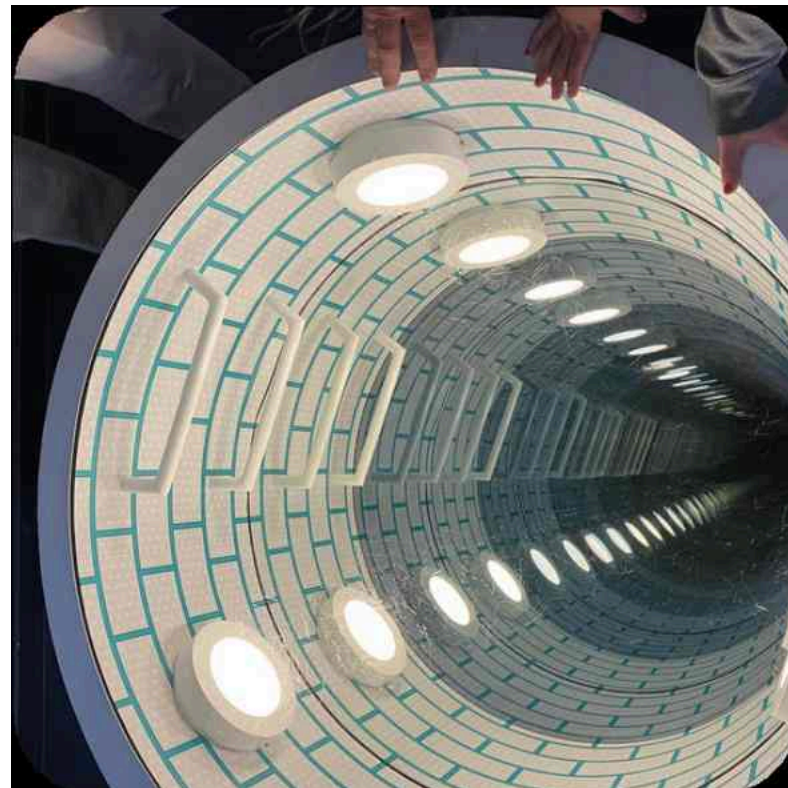

Knez Mihailova Street is one of the most famous and vibrant pedestrian streets in Belgrade, Serbia. It is located in the heart of the city, stretching from Kalemegdan Park to Republic Square. The street is often referred to as "Belgrade's shopping and cultural center." The street is known for its lively atmosphere, street performers, and historical architecture, which reflects Belgrade's rich cultural heritage. The street is also home to several important landmarks, including the Serbian Academy of Sciences and Arts, the Cathedral Church of St. Michael, and the Prince Mihailo Monument.

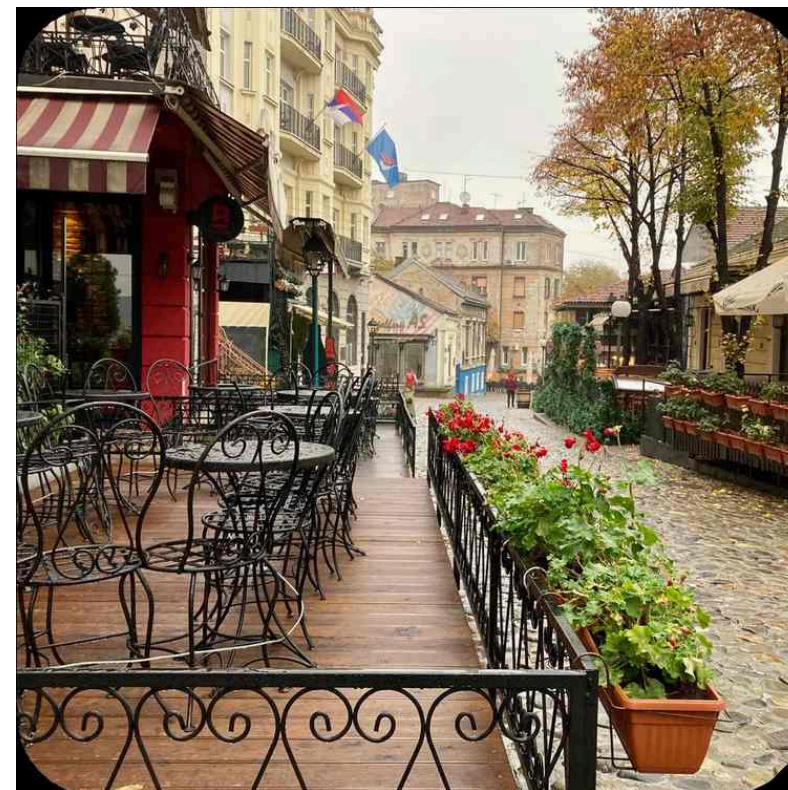

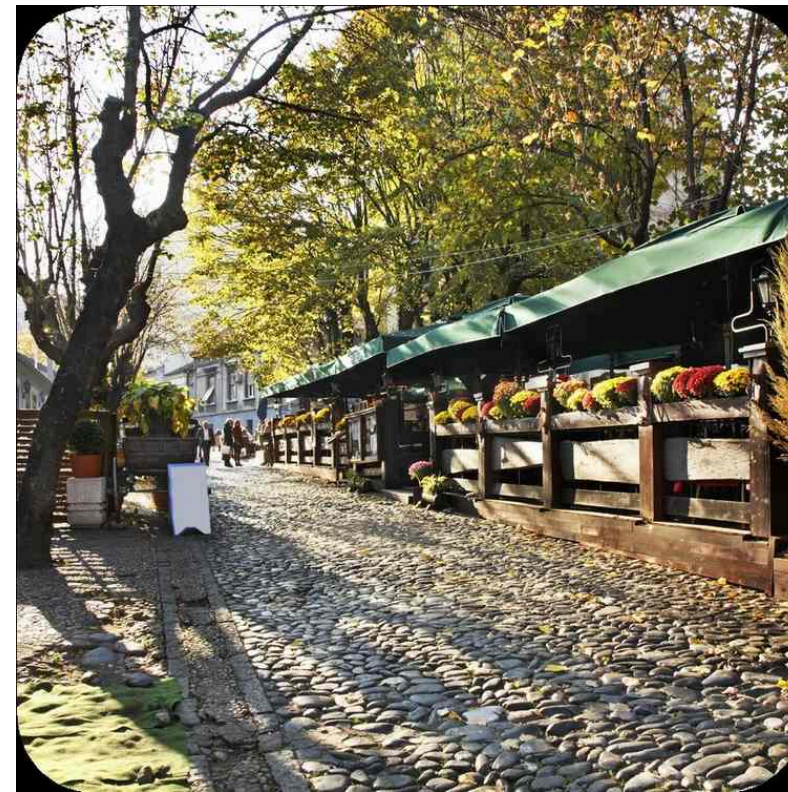

Museum of Illusions

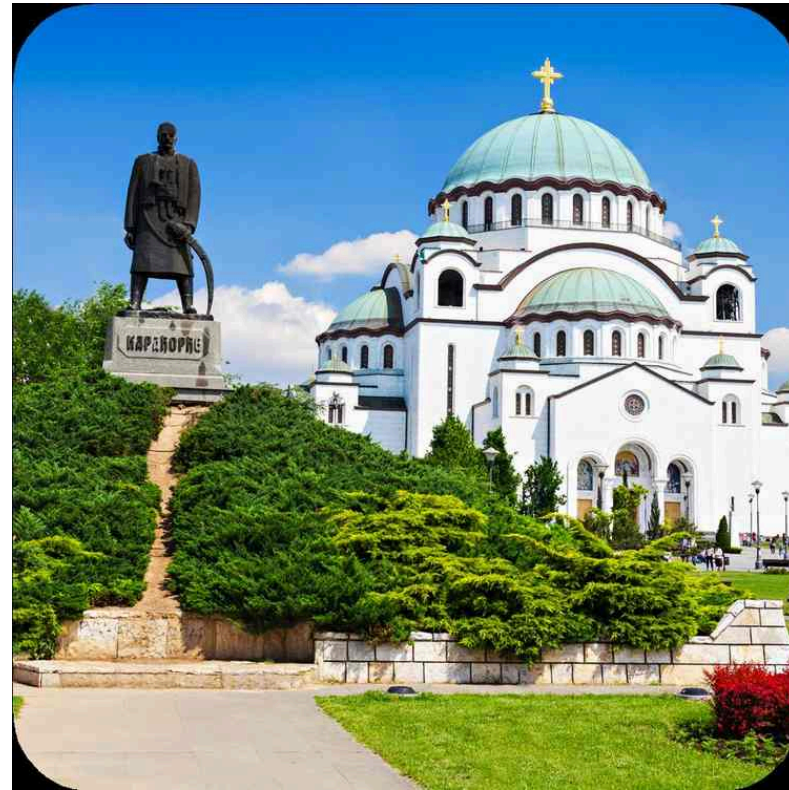

The Museum of Illusions in Belgrade is an interactive museum that offers a unique experience with a variety of optical illusions and mind-bending exhibits. It features immersive installations where visitors can engage with different illusions, take creative photos, and learn about the science behind perception. It's a fun place for people of all ages, making it popular for both locals and tourists. If you're interested in visiting, it's a great spot to explore and have some fun while challenging your senses!

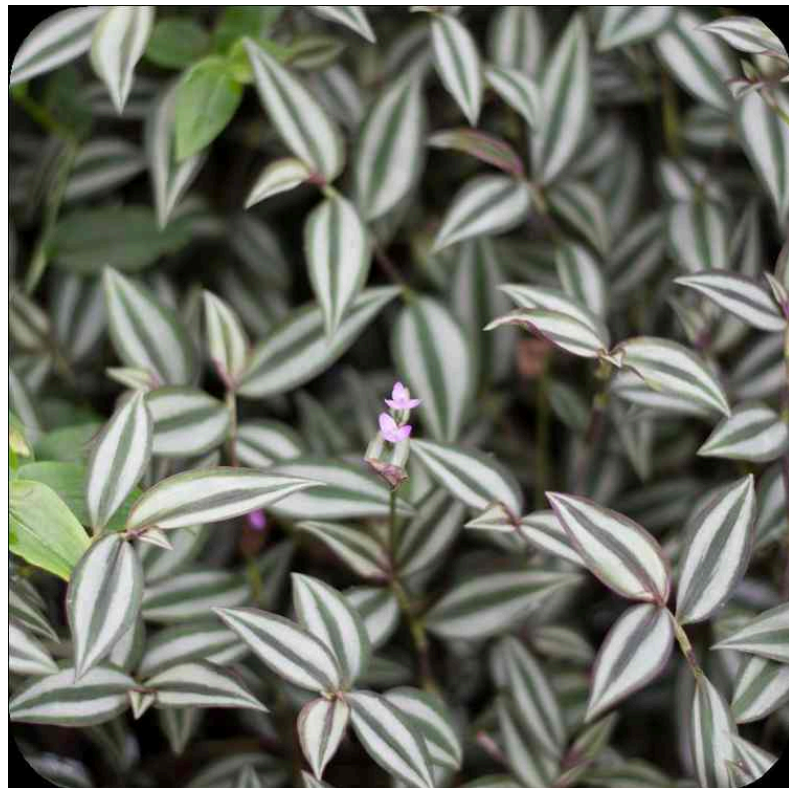

Skadarlija

Skadarlija is a vintage street, an urban neighbourhood located in the Old Town. Skadarlija partially preserves the ambience of traditional urban architecture, including archaic urban organization, and is known as the main bohemian quarter of Belgrade. After Kalemegdan, Skadarlija is the second-most visited tourist attraction in Belgrade. It includes well-known restaurants, bars, antique and souvenir shops and the Sebilj fountain. The bands tend to play proper traditional music in the restaurants mostly focused on national specialties and drinks such as rakija, beer and wine.

Other interesting sites

Gardoš in Zemun, the Temple of Saint Sava, numerous parks, Botanical Garden "Jevremovac" and many other sites and locations.
